Brief Descriptions:

Children use simulated coins to participate in different stall activities, such as buying New Year flowers, waving spring flowers, stall games, dragon and lion dances, etc. The items in the stalls are all made by the children. There are many opportunities for creation, discussion and sharing during the activities. In addition to allow the children to understand New Year customs, they also learn how to communicate with others, enriching their learning experience. Parent volunteers also help by becoming the stall owners and enjoy the festive atmosphere together.
